Blews Auto Body Shop Is Scene Of Serious Blaze Early This Morning

SEVERAL AUTOS ARE DESTROYED

(Picture On Page Twenty)

Fire, which was discovered at 7:45 o'clock this morning, gutted the Blews Auto Body Shop, owned by P. H. Blews, at East New Castle, destroying five automobiles and equipment used in auto body work. The loss will be around $10,000, Mr. Blews stated. Insurance was carried on the loss.

The fire spread through the building quickly, being hastened by auto paints stored in the building, and by the time the Shenango township department had arrived at the scene, the interior of the shop was a raging inferno. A call was sent to New Castle for assistance, "B" truck company, and Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink responding. Battle Blaze Over Hour

Firemen battled the blaze for an hour and a half before it could be brought under control.

A new addition, which was being built onto the front of the struc-ture, and which had not yet been completed, was not touched by the fire, but the old structure, to the rear was gutted completely and its contents destroyed.

State police were on the scene and directed traffic around the scene of the fire, the road in front being blocked by the fire trucks

Those who sadly find in the world situation only mockery of the Christmas theme of peace and good will prison sentences. need to remind themselves of two points in the regard.

First, when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea, in the days of Herod the king, there was even less peace, freedom and good will on earth than there is today.

These things Americans have done because they are of their spirit, as individuals and as a nation. It is the spirit their spirit, as individuals and as a nation. Peace and good will seem far off this Christmas. But they are as certain of fulfillment as the faith of a child.

Some Christmas Thoughts

By PAUL GALLICO

Christmas must be the loneliest day of the year for people of no faith who do not believe in anything beyond their greeds, appetites

It is the day when one can find it in one's heart to pity the agnostic, the communist and the cynic who turn their backs on or despise the celebration of the birth of Christ, for it is the one time of the year when the rest of the world warms its heart at spiritual fires, if only for a night and a day, and they are left cold and alone.

One wonders, for instance, how the bitter, frustrated home-grown Red must feel on this Christmas Day surrounded on all sides by the tender and engaging trappings of Christmas. His Russian masters have decreed that he must be an enemy to Christianity in every form and manifestation. It must be harder to bear this enmity this day than any other. At no other time must be feel himself as outcast and cut off from the inner glow and warmth that come with loving, sacrificing and giving as he must today.

For Christmas is the holiday and festival of the poor, or rather let us say the unrich, to whom giving entails thought, affectionate planning, the secret personal sacrifices and little savings of money or that the gift that so that the gift that is made shall be known to come truly from the heart and not the purse.

What Does Communist Do?

What does the communist do this day when every home but his is filled with the rustling of tissue paper being stripped from parcels and the delighted cries of children; when the wife and mother, misty-eyed, kisses her husband; when the colored lights burn like jewels; when the ring of telephone and doorbell takes on a new exciting sound unlike that of any other time; when one hears from old friends and distant relations; when life somehow seems more vibrant, exciting, fragrant and rewarding than at any other time?

How does such a person, dedicated to the destruction of every-thing physical and spiritual about our civilization and way of living so that the communists can substitute a tyranny with themselves in the seats of power, think, feel and act on this day'

Does he present a gift to his wife and children? And in whose name? Christmas, embodying the name of Christ must itself be an anathema to this gang conspiring to destroy Christianity. And yet ow can any American, born and brought up in this country, Party Member or no, resist the nostalgia of the Salvation Army collection bells tinkling in the streets, the pathos of the ragged, battered, chilblained sidewalk Santas, symbol of that time when charity to the unfortunate is uppermost in the minds of everyone?

Cannot Shut Oneself From Christmas

How can one shut oneself away from Christmas. and yet where can one go today in this vast land and NOT find the mark of the holiday and its meaning, from the scraps and streamers of red and green papers that festoon the windows of the lowliest stationery store, to the massive municipal trees, festooned and lighted, that tower in the village square or town plaza? And how must it be to live where millions upon millions in one form or another are subscribing to these lovely rites, and yet be cut off from them by a heart blocked with hatred and a cupidity for power beyond light or grace

Surely these must be the most miserable of all people on this day, for the feast is all around them and they are forbidden it. Much more unhappy they than even the lonely and neglected, th ones away from home, or without friends and family during this Yule, for at least their hearts are stirred by the pageantry of Christmas all about They believe, they yearn, they have their memories and the sense that even though they are alone and through unhappy circumstances are uncared for, yet they own a share in every wreath and lighted window. The Christmas trees viewed through parted curtains belong to them too because of their belief and faith in all this

Not so the Haters of Men who have neither sympathy nor belief to give to the Day, the Message and The Man. Here is a loneliness that on Christmas Day must surpass all others—to be denied the solace of wishing a fellow man a Merry Christmas from the heart, to hear the wish addressed to one and to have it awaken within naught but the echoes of bitterness and mockery.

Perhaps some day in their horrid society they will name and set

"There were ruddy, brown-faced, broad girthed Spanish onions, shining in the fatness of their growth like Spanish friars and winking and of the small plum pudding like Spanish friars and winking and of the small plum pudding like Spanish friars and winking like Spanish friars and winki

Senator Taft, Gen. Eisenhower Are Possibilities

By WILLIAM THEIS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today are the standout possibilities for the presidential nomination.

This was made more evident than ever by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's positive withdrawal from the 1952 presidential jamboree. Dewey wrote his 1948 Oregon campaign manager that his decision is "as staggering New Deal taxes."

As in early 1948, Eisenhower "talk" is kinking up through the midwest and elecubers are elecubers and elecubers and elecubers and elecubers are elecubers are elecubers are elecubers and elecubers are elecubers are elecubers are elecubers are elecubers are elecubers and elecubers are elecubers a certain and final as death and the

The turning point so far as Eisenhower's decision is concerned may well come with the outcome Taft's race for reelection in Most observers now expect to see Taft win, largely because the Democrats in Ohio were unable to agree early on a strong candidate.

If Taft deals his organized labor opponents a smashing defeat by "winning big" then many persons believe Eisenhower might forbid any action in his behalf in 1952. A Taft victory by a small margin, or a Taft defeat, might tempt the gen-

Why Call Ye Me Lord, Lord and Do Not the Things Which I Say? Luke 6:46

Inasmuch as there is only one body Eph. 4:4 and that body s the church Col. 1:18, can this true body be recognized or distinguished from others claiming to be the true church? Yes, it can. The body of Christ can be distinguished from others by its name and where it was founded. Many other ways also. Christ is the head of His body which is the church Col. 1:18. It is the body of Christ, therefore the church of Christ. It belongs to Him. Man made names cannot be scripturally substituted It was prophecied in Isa. 46:13 and Micah. 4:2 that salvation would go forth from Jerusalem. In Luke 24:46, 49, Christ told His disciples to tarry in Jerusalem until they were indued with power from on high. In Acts, Chapters one and two, we find the disciples in Jerusalem and being indued with that power. Any church that did not begin in Jerusalem is the

Do Not Wake Child

"Such methods," the doctor says, pre-suppose that babies are not ndividuals, but they are all alike. "Even if one does not go all the way in allowing complete freedom for the baby to choose its feed ime, one should certainly advise the mother to considerable elas-ticity in the feeding schedule and adjust it as far as she possibly can to the needs of her child.

"Mother," adds the doctor, should not waken the child for a feed. She must realize that the smaller the baby the more often it is likely to want to be fed.

"She should certainly be advised to feed the baby in the night in the first month or two when the infant wants it. Refusal to feed the baby in the night is a potent cause of excessive crying. Other causes of crying, Illingsworth concludes, are overclothing neglect, loneliness, lack of cuddling and boredom.

REVIEW OF THE YEAR . . By Alan Maver October

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

S CHRISTMAS nears, generosity becomes king and everyone wishes A each other well, a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, hence there is a genuine feeling of Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward All Men. Many times differences which have existed for years are overcome and one spends Christmas day with a smile on his face and joy in his heart. Why cannot this spirit prevail, not for only one day, but for all 365 in a year?

Such go far toward lightening the hearts of those struck by adversity or affected by burdensome cares. A pleasant word, and kind acts go far toward cementing old friendships and (INS)—The East Shrine team was rated a 7½ point favorite today to whip the West All-Stars in their charity football game next Satur-

Oddsmakers apparently installed the East in the favorite's role on the basis of such" big" names as Arnold Galiffa, Army quarterback, Clayton Tonnemaker, Minnesota guard, and Leon Hart, giant end from Notre Dame.

The East coaches have had some trouble getting their practice sessions organized because players were late in arriving.

The West squad has already had a tough scrimmage session with Stanford's team which is preparing for the Pineapple bowl game in Honolulu January 2.

Former Local Woman Will Be 96 Sunday

STONEBORO, Dec. 24. - Mrs. Margaret Ann Bonner, former resident of New Castle, will mark her 96th milestone here on Christmas Day, with a family dinner marking the occasion.

Stoneboro's oldest resident, Mrs. Bonner was born in New Castle on Tyne, England, December 25, 1853. The family migrated to this country when Mrs. Bonner was four but soon returned to England. When she was nine they made the return trip, settling near New Castle. During their residence in Lawrence county, Mrs. Bonner's father was superintendent of mines in New Castle for some years.

Mrs. Bonner is the mother of five children. Mr. Bonner died more than 57 years ago, leaving the mother to rear the family. She is a member of the Stoneboro Presbyterian church.
